From Jewish Heritage Sites and Monuments in Moldova

According to the report "Jewish Heritage Sites and Monuments in Moldova", created by the United States Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad, 2010, Rashkov was one of the oldest Jewish settlement in Moldova. About 2,000 Jews (50% of the town's population) lived there before the Second World War.

The 20,000 square meter cemetery is surrounded by a ruined stone wall. The cemetery contains more than 5,000 extant gravestones that date from the 18th to the 20th centuries. The site is now deserted and overgrown and more than half of the stones are toppled or broken.

Phase 1 and Phase 2 of the project

Phase 1 has 45 records with 43 photographs.

Phase 2 brought number of burial records to 1,451 with 1,443 photographs.

The photos of 213 Unknown graves can be seen at Unknown Graves at Rashkov cemetery.

Language of the inscriptions: Phase 1: mostly Russian, some are written in Hebrew and Russian; Phase 2: all but a few inscriptions are written only in Hebrew.

Dates: Phase 1: burials in this cemetery are from 1930s. The last burial dated 1985. Phase 2: most burials are from the beginning to later 19 century. The oldest grave was from 1826.

Phase 1 was translated by Seth Talyansky and Nathen Gabriel and Phase 2 inscriptions translated by Bianca Gamarnik, Terry Lasky, Nathen Gabriel and Yefim Kogan.

Rashov synagogue of 1749

In Rashkov the impressive Baroque-style synagogue, built in 1749, is only a ruin with its outer walls and part of the Aron ha-Kodesh (Holy Ark) intact.

This synagogue
– even in its ruinous state – is architecturally
the most impressive Jewish building in Moldova.
